Manufacturing Day

Just a reminder that there is a little over a week left for students to register for our Manufacturing Day Event being hosted on our campus on October 13th from 9-11:30! We encourage any junior and senior high school students interested in the fields of welding, industrial maintenance, or machine tool to register for this event, as it will be a fun and engaging way to learn more about these careers! There are still quite a few spots open as of right now, but we suggest students don't wait to register if interested, as this event is capped at 30 attendees. As I mentioned before, this event will include hands-on, interactive breakout sessions to learn more about each of the previously mentioned programs, and then also giveaways, prizes, and lunch! This is a really great opportunity to hear and learn from women and men in the industry. The registration link for the event is below here. Please let me know if you or your students have any questions on this.
